

Making Lunch Wraps With Bees Wax

Going plastic free for July made us reflect on how we could eliminate our single use plastic. Archie your mum Claire showed us how she made lunch wraps with a group at school and we followed her method. The first step was to draw your design on a calico square. The second step was to spread grated bees wax on the top. The third step was to place your calico between grease proof paper. And lastly with Maree's help was to melt the wax by ironing on the top. Ta da! Lunch wrap complete to wrap your daily baking at kindergarten.

Well done Archie you are learning how to follow the steps in a process to achieve an end result.
